About This Content

Discover Germany at the turn of the century with this new map!

Dash through the German landscape with an entirely new vertical map! With routes requiring as many as 7 train cars to conquer, key European countries to link together and pivotal cities for your network, you will need to plan ahead if you want to grow your railroad empire. The competition is fierce, and your opponents might outmaneuver you if you can't adapt to the board!

I had the goofiest bug in the game with this map. At the end, it said I had 14 route cards, when I only had 6. Every computer player was shown as having way more at the end than they really had, with 1 of them listed as having 17. The computer players hoarded train cards the entire game so we had MANY turns where there were only locomotives available and they got dealt and redealt again and again. And several turns where NO train cards were available.
